How it work's ?

Order creation

The maker creates an order.

The taker confirms the order

The taker accepts the order and pays DEX fee.

The maker sends the digital asset

The maker sends a payment blocked by a secret hash and timestamp. The taker checks and confirms the payment. If there is no confirmation, the payment is returned to the maker.

Obtaining by the taker

The taker sees that his payment is accepted, so he extracts the secret hash from the withdrawal transaction and receives the maker's payment to his wallet.

Obtaining by the maker

The maker receives the taker's payment to his wallet. This transaction is publicly visible on the blockchain.

The taker sends the digital asset

The taker sends his payment. If the maker has not taken the payment within the blocking time, the assets are returned to the taker.
